Hello everyone, Mrs Blow here!

Well learning has looked very different here today. We had 6 children, plus two of mine at school today. Adrianna made us spaghetti Bolognese for lunch.

We started the day with a Jo Wicks workout. Have you managed to see this? It's on at 9am every day. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d3LPrhI0v-w>

I notice that some of you have not logged onto your google classroom yet. It is really important that you try to do a bit of work each day as we don't want you to be far behind when we come back to school. At the very least, you should be doing maths whizz/TTRockstars AND reading every day!

Yesterday I was lucky enough to read the children 3 story books under the trees in the sunshine.

Today we have worked really hard on the gardening area outside. We began clearing the mess and are hoping to transform it into a lovely garden that you can all use and grow fruit and vegetables when you return.

We have less adults in school today as we are trying hard to do our bit to stop the spread of the virus. Please do your bit by making sure you stay inside too – it's not forever, but it's really important.

Remember if you need to get a message to me, email info@morden.merton.sch.uk

With best wishes and lots of love,

Mrs Blow
