COMPETITION TIME!

Would you like to win prizes whilst having fun?

The Reading Ambassadors (and Mrs Danaher) invite you to join their first competition. All you have to do is complete one of the activities on the next page, linked to your class's Reading for Pleasure book. You might win afternoon tea with the other winners as a prize!

What you have to do -

- Check which book your class chose (see the bottom of this page).
- Choose one activity to complete at home.
- Put your name and class on it.
- Give it or send it to Mrs Danaher (through info@morden.merton.sch.uk) by Monday 18th March.

Other information -

- You can enter as many times as you like.
- A winner will be picked from each class.

Choose the Reading for Pleasure book voted for by your class (these are displayed in the hall.)

Nursery – The Gingerbread Man – Nina Filipek

Yellow Class – Goldilocks and the Three Bears – Jo Parry and Marie Allen

Red Class – Paddington at the Tower – Michael Bond

Green Class – Mr Stink – David Walliams

Blue Class – Gangsta Granny – David Walliams

Purple Class – Why the Whales Came – Michael Morpurgo

Silver Class – The Twits – Roald Dahl

Gold Class – When Hitler Stole Pink Rabbit – Judith Kerr

You can enter as many times as you like and choose a different activity each time but it must be linked to your class's chosen Reading for Pleasure book.
All entries must be in by Monday 18th March with a name and class on.
